2. Warm briefly and protect the work area - Run only long enough for the oil to flow, then shut off and wait briefly. Remove the fill cap, place a wide drain pan under the sump, and keep oil off the tires and ground.

4. Install the correct oil quantity - Lower to level ground and fill through the rocker-cover filler with a funnel - about 5.5L for the Barra six. Don’t guess the final amount: fill most of it, wait a minute, check the dipstick, and top up to full.
5. Check level, leaks, and service reminder - Start the engine, idle briefly, and check underneath for leaks at the sump plug and filter. Reset the service reminder as appropriate for your model year and log the mileage, oil grade, and date.
